

PART-TIME & FULL TIME FACULTY POSITIONS OPEN AT UCSF SCHOOL OF DENTISTRY

The University of California, San Francisco, School of Dentistry, Department of Preventive and Restorative Dental Sciences, is seeking part and full time faculty members at the ranks of Assistant or Associate in the Health Sciences Clinical Professor series to support its teaching programs in clinical general dentistry. The appointment will be in the Department's Division of Clinical General Dentistry.

UCSF is committed to the teaching and practice of minimally invasive dentistry and caries management by risk assessment. This role works closely with the Group Practice Leader and will be supporting and teaching in a group practice model. Primary duties will include clinical and pre-clinical teaching, including lecture, seminar and continuing education activities covering all areas of general dentistry including diagnosis, treatment planning, prevention, restorative, endodontics, removable and fixed prosthodontics including implants, and nonsurgical periodontics.

The individuals selected must have U.S. DDS/DMD or an equivalent degree and must have current or be eligible for California dental licensure at the time of application. At least three years of clinical dental experience is preferred. Previous predoctoral teaching experience is preferred.

Academic rank and salary level will be based on the successful applicant's experience. The positions are open until filled. Due to the large number of applications, only potential candidates selected for an interview will receive return correspondence.

Interested applicants should apply online at <https://aprecruit.ucsf.edu/JPF03860> by submitting a cover letter, CV, statement of contributions to diversity, statement of teaching describing the applicant's teaching and mentoring philosophy and contact information for three references. Applicant materials must list current qualifications upon submission.
